NODAWAY HIGH SCHOOL
1956-57

TO THE STUDENTS OF NODAWAY HIGH

This is your 1957 annual. It represents not only the school, but each and every one of you. In these few pages we have tried to capture some part of the work, the play, the seriousness and the gaiety which have made our high school days a magic time. We hope that as you turn through the pages of the "Cardinal" in years to come, it will bring the joy of reminiscence to all who remember the Class of '57.

To you, the underclassmen, it is the passing of a school year filled with happy memories and events. To our beloved teachers we say "Thanks for your patience with the staff and for your gracious attitude toward making our "Cardinal" a success."

DEDICATION

TO THE ETERNAL MEMORY OF
WALTER S. WILLIAMS, JR.
BETTER KNOWN TO ALL HIS FRIENDS AS

who departed from our physical presence on March 28, 1957, to enter into the spiritual presence of our Eternal Father, we, the class of 1957, dedicate the 1957 CARDINAL in remembrance of Walter S. Williams, Jr. His companionship, his vital interest in all activities, his ability to make everyone feel better will remain a cherished part of our memory of him. In this small way we wish to show our love and respect for his character and for Junior, our friend.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Long ago--in 1944 to be exact--a tribe of very small but very wild Indians banded together and set out upon the warpath Knowledge, for the purpose of conquering an ancient foe, Ignorance. There were no serious conflicts for many moons, but their Big Chiefs told them they were preparing for a long campaign with the united tribes of No-A-Heap School.

So the little warriors trained faithfully many of them accomplishing deeds of valor, while some were snatched away by the Evil Spirit Drop-Out and others were conquered by Chief Move-Out-O'-Town. But the remaining ones grew to be better and harder warriors each day, using more and more war paint and gradually shortening their scalp-locks.

Finally Chief Head-of-the-Bunch Marxer declared them fit to join No-a-Heap High School and with much advice and many poisoned weapons, they went forth to do their best.

Having reached the battle field they chose Chief Just-Married-a-Maid Gritmit for their medicine man. Their band was now reinforced greatly by many hardy warriors, among whom were Howl-at-the-Moon Vogel, Girl-on-the-Brain Timperley, Make-a-Noise Walter and his cousin Can-Go-Fast Walter, Angel-Face Hamman, Chewin'-the-Rag Briggs and Pepper-on-the-Tongue Devine.

With the aid of these powerful allies, they met and conquered the deadly foe Algebra, but they were almost overcome by Pythagoras in the Battle of the Hypoteneuse.

Sometime later, sensing a general lack of interest, Big Chief Smid called a council which they named "Initiation Day." This celebration turned out to be a big war-party at which the Seniors entertained the younger Redskins much to their own embarrassment.

Then having made their work in the tribal sports and musical pow-wow, they rested from the battle for several moons.

When they collected again, later in Indian Summer, they again chose Chief Gritmit and made a sudden raid on History but the whole Tribe defeated Caesar in the Gaulic Wars.

Sing-a-Song Shocklee joined us. Ghost-in-the-Moon Scanlan joined our camp but decided to leave. About this time Loving-Heart King deserted the tribe for Hit-the-Trail Dumler, and her brother, Monkey-Shine King left to join the U. S. A. Camp. Papoose Hoffman pitched hers in Not-So-Good Villisca. Go-Away Rine pitched his teepee in Missouri and Tear-in-the-Eye McCuen left to look for bigger hunting grounds.

Three moons later they met at Lake of Three Fires to make much whoopee.

Once more they dispersed and roamed over the prairie until they were called together by Heap-Big-Chief Strickfaden. Returning with renewed determination, they donned their whoopee hats, daubed on more war-paint and unanimously chose Hee-Haw Schultz as Chief Medicine Woman.

Here they were joined by Soap-in-the-Throat Bowman but squaws Penwell and Gravett were missing. Several moons later, Make-a-Hit Orme, and Floating-Rock Meredith left to join forces with their Heap-Big Uncle Sam.

During this year the tribe put on a pow-wow called "Mumbo-Jumbo." They also held a Christmas festival dance.

Head-Lock Ridnour, Heap-Much Questions Jenkins, Sing-A-Song Shocklee, and Girl-on-the-Brain Timperley were conquered by Chief-Move-Out-O'-Town not many moons ago.

These festivities being over, Chief Strickfaden called a council and chose nine squaws and six braves to put on a play, "Hillbilly Weddin'" under the direction of Learn-Your-Lines Hooker.

Now that our long campaign is ended, although the band is smaller and stronger than ever, only two of the original tribe remain in No-a-Heap High School: Totem-Pole Barker and Flying Feather Jenkins.

The rest of the Indians who stayed to the end of the campaign are: Knock-in-the-Leg Cihak, Fraid-of-a-Man Carmichael, Heart-Throb Hall, Ache-in-the-Head Weil, Bang-Bang Heard, Soaring-Swan Miller, Make-a-Noise Walter and his cousin, Can-Go-Fast Walter, Chewin'-the-Rag Briggs, Soap-in-the-Throat Bowman, Pepper-on-the-Tongue Devine, Howl-at-the-Moon Vogel and Angel-Face Hamman.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the Seniors of 1957, being of sound mind and body do hereby bequeath the following to our favorite underclassmen, the Juniors.

I, Marguerite will my talent to get lost on a road I have traveled thousands of times to Janet Bartz. Golden opportunity!

We, Jerry and Merrill will our ability to get along with the girls at play practice to Lowell and John in hopes their girls don't get as mad as ours did.

I, Ronald will my ability to get along with the Villisca cops to the Junior boys.

I, Harold will my car to Jim Williams. I hope he can find an oil well, as he will need it.

I, Kathryn will my ability to always have something to gripe about to Maxine, providing she can do as well as I have.

I, Ruth will to Jean Sanburn my ability to wait patiently for my boyfriend in hopes she has as much fun doing so as I have.

I, Janis will my past due alimony checks to Mary Baldwin. They are pretty hard to collect at times.

I, Norma will my sewing ability to Maxine Wiley.

I, Shirley will my ability to become engaged to Lyle Boham.

We, the Senior Class will our ability to argue to class meetings and get absolutely nothing accomplished to the Junior Class.

I, Clair will my capacity for gingerale to Richard Williams.

I, Virginia will my parking place to Carolyn Walter and Junior Piercy in hopes they make good use of it, of course.

I, Louise will my typing eraser to Theresa Scanlan in hopes she doesn't make as big holes as I.

I, Jerry will my ability to hot-rod and not get in the ditch to Richard Williams and Mr. Burch.

I, Paul will my size 12 tennis shoes to Jim Williams.

I, Lola will my ability to have trouble with the ditto machine the day the Cardinal comes out, to Jean and Mary.

STRAIT'S GROCERY

Fresh fruit, vegetables and meats.

Always a Friendly Welcome

Dale and Marjorie Strait

SENIOR PROPHECY

We, the Junior Class of 1957, take a look into the future and see the Seniors of 1957 as follows:

First moving down to Africa, we find a small mission in the midst of the jungle. Looking closer we see an old schoolmate of ours, Kathryn Devine, with her converted pigmy husband. Kathryn, you always said, "the biggest surprises came in small packages."

Moving on a little farther we hear the cry of Tarzan Hall as he swings through the trees hurrying home to Jane, the former Virginia Bowman. Well, kids, we knew you liked privacy, but we didn't think you'd go to such extremes.

Next we move to Athens, Greece, where the Olympic games are being held. Staying to watch a few events we run into Shirley Hamman, and learn that she is this year's discus throwing champion. Lost talent, just think what she could have done on the basketball floor.

Moving next to Russia, we find Hans Weil and Adolf Walter, toe dancers in the Russian Ballet. Well, boys, we always knew your charm and grace would get you someplace.

Going back to the United States we decide to visit Disneyland. And who do we see wrestling the crocodiles, but Janis Carmichael. We always knew you had a hidden talent, Janis.

On the way to Chicago, we decide to stop at our favorite stomping grounds, Nodaway. Who pulls up beside us in an old Model T, but Jerry Walter. Upon talking to him we find he traded off his "solid gold Cadillac", because he could not get a fast take off from stop signs.

We also hear that Norma Miller is now president of the Nodaway Branch of the "Lonely Hearts Club."

Now we journey on to Chicago to the popular Skid Row and whom do we see as the No. 1 burlesque queen, but Miss Lola Mae Cihak. Lola, how do you do it? We always thought you were so short winded.

Next door in Milligan's gym we find Bird McCoy. She is practicing her profession of weight lifting. We see you have been eating your wheaties, Bird.

We move next to Churchill Downs in Kentucky where we meet a long lost friend, Paul Barker, who is a famous jockey in the shetland pony derby. Do you always choose the smaller things in life, Paul?

On to Madison Square Gardens in New York, we witness the wrestling matches for that day. The most interesting being the match between Boo Boo Briggs and Bo Bo Vogel. What happened to your solid friendship, girls?

On our journey homeward, we move to the Stork Club in New York where we see Elvis Heard attending his premiere and singing his latest pop tune, "Squish Me, Janet."

Passing dear old N. H. S., we take one last farewell glance at the school-house, where we first made acquaintance with the fifteen Seniors of nineteen hundred and fifty seven.
